

Music and Nostalgia

Reading on a theme, by authors
Alethea Black and Céline Keating

Mount
Pleasant
Public
Library

350 Bedford Road
Pleasantville, NY 10570

Sunday, March 11th at 2:00 pm

Alethea Black's debut story collection, I Knew You'd Be Lovely (Broadway Books/Random House) was an Oprah.com book-of-the-week and a Barnes & Nobel "Discover Great New Writers" pick. Black graduated from Harvard College and lives in Dutchess County, NY
www.aletheablack.com

Céline Keating's debut novel, Layla (Plain View Press), was a pick by the Huffington Post and by Poets & Writers magazine. Keating earned a Masters Degree in Urban Studies from Queens College and in Creative Writing from City College/ CUNY. She lives in New York City.
www.celinekeating.com

A discussion of the publishing processes will follow.

With guest violinist
Willa Odefey

